

Tony LaSalvia

10:45 AM (2
minutes ago)

Hello Cheryl,

Sorry for the lateness of this email.

I wanted to report that some CAC members participated in a presentation Sunday June 5 at the Taghkanic Fire Station.

This presentation was about the Upper Taghkanic Watershed Plan and was part of a dual presentation.

The first presentation was by the author Nancy Castaldo about her new book " When the World Runs Dry" about world water issues.

This was presented as a program of the Claverack Library led by Thea Schoep. After this presentation the group from the CAC's of Taghkanic, Claverack, Copake and Hillsdale presented the Plan developed in conjunction with the Columbia Land Conservancy. The presenters were Larry Kadish, Peter Paden and myself from Taghkanic and John Bradley of Claverack with help from Marrisra Cody of the Columbia Land Conservancy. The group discussed key points of the plan and answered questions from the audience. There were copies of the plan available for the interested public.

Thank you,

Tony